

SMCF provides strategic Real Estate Consulting Services to clients throughout the real estate industry. It doesn't matter if you are just starting out and don't have a clue what you need to do first, or if you are a seasoned investor and have already purchased properties, we can take you to the next level as a real estate investor.

We evaluate everyone's goals differently, we tailor your investment plan to meet those goals, we help you with all of the knowledge and resources to obtain that goal and we walk you through the process step by step until your goal is accomplished.

Our services include helping investors evaluate what a good real estate deal is. Assisting with the purchase for either residential or multifamily properties for a long-term investment. And buy, fix and resell properties for short-term investing. Our goal is to teach you how to build a real estate portfolio and develop a retirement plan.

Let SMCF help in your path to become a successful investor. Give us a call today